Governor Gary R. Herbert Welcomes Janicki Industries to Layton City, UT
Groundbreaking at East Gate Industrial Park

(Salt Lake City, UT) – Janicki Industries, a technical engineering company known for its expertise with high-precision composite manufacturing, held a groundbreaking ceremony at its site in Layton City, UT. Utah Governor Gary R. Herbert, U.S. Senator Bob Bennett, Congressman Rob Bishop and CEO of Janicki Industries, John Janicki attended the event. Also in attendance were executives from aerospace industry companies ATK and Lockheed Martin who are Janicki clients.

“Composite manufacturing is rapidly becoming the ‘steel’ of America’s future and Utah is clearly among the leaders in the industry,” said Governor Gary R. Herbert. “Janicki Industries is widely recognized as one of the leaders in Composite Manufacturing and we are pleased they have chosen to grow with us in Utah.”

John Janicki, president of Janicki Industries notes “aerospace companies that are looking to expand are increasingly selecting Utah. There is a large base of expertise here, and that presents opportunities for collaboration and innovation.” Janicki Industries will make a $19.5 million capital investment in real and personal property in the East Gate Industrial Park in Layton City, Utah.

“Layton City is proud to welcome Janicki Industries to our community and to the East Gate development,” states Layton City Mayor Steve Curtis. “This business/research park is very fortunate in having such a premier composite industrial firm as its anchor tenant. This type of commerce will serve as an important catalyst for growth within the aerospace and composites industries in Northern Utah. We appreciate the work put forth by Janicki Industries, JL Properties, Davis County and the State of Utah for the culmination of what will prove to be a successful long term partnership.”

“Janicki Industry’s decision to choose Utah is an excellent example of partnership between the public and private sector,” says Jeff Edwards, president and CEO of EDCUtah. “Utah continues to make economic development gains because of this team effort.”
